

Late-Breaking News About Final Cut Express HD

This document provides updated information about Final Cut Express HD 3.5. This document may be updated as versions of Final Cut Express HD are released or new information becomes available. You can check for updated information by choosing Help > Late-Breaking News when Final Cut Express HD is open.

For the latest information about product updates, tips and techniques, and qualified third-party devices, visit the Final Cut Express HD website at <http://www.apple.com/finalcutexpress> and the Final Cut Express HD support site at <http://www.apple.com/support/finalcutexpress>.

For the latest support information from AppleCare, choose Final Cut Express HD Support from the Final Cut Express HD Help menu. To receive automatic notification about new support issues, use Safari to bookmark the AppleCare Final Cut Express HD RSS page at <feed://docs.info.apple.com/rss/fce.rss>. See Safari Help for more information about configuring RSS feeds.

Late-Breaking News About Final Cut Express HD 3.5

This version of Final Cut Express HD is designed to run natively on both PowerPC-based and Intel-based Macintosh computers.

Note: Final Cut Express HD 3.5.1 is a maintenance release that improves performance on Intel-based Macintosh computers.

Using Compressor with Final Cut Express HD

Compressor is not included with Final Cut Express HD. If you plan to install Compressor from another software package (such as DVD Studio Pro) for use with Final Cut Express HD, make sure you install Compressor 2 or later.

Important: The Export Using Compressor command is available regardless of what version of Compressor you have installed. However, Final Cut Express HD 3.5 and Motion 2 are not compatible with Compressor 1.2.1 or earlier.

Updating QuickTime

QuickTime 7.1 or later is recommended for this version of Final Cut Express HD.

To download the most recent version of QuickTime, go to:

- <http://www.apple.com/quicktime/download/mac.html>